

T V Rules Laid Down By Council

The main topic for the second Student Council Meeting, held last Monday night, concerned the code of rules governing the use of the recently acquired Television set in Austin Hall. Jack Eaton, chairman of the TV committee submitted the list to the council which unanimously approved it. Video will be available to the student body on Monday and Wednesday from 5:30 to 9:00 P.M. on Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 8:15 to 9:00, on Saturday from 1 in the afternoon until midnight, and on Sunday from 1 p.m. to 11 p.m. The remainder of the rules related to the conduct of the students in Austin Hall during these hours, and to the appointment of authorized personnel who will be in charge of the set while it is in operation.

NO COKE MACHINES

According to the Club Status Committee it is impossible to install Coke machines on campus, as the cup-type machine which would be used would interfere with the school's water supply. Peter Spillane outlined the procedure for handling absences from council meetings. Approved cuts will be accepted in the case of sickness, conflicting activities, and exams held at the same time as the council meetings, other excuses for cuts must be passed upon by committee members.

A final decision was reached concerning the annual school Blood Drive. This year's chairman, Henry O'Conner expressed his wish for complete student participation for the Drive, which is scheduled for the 20th of October. A resolution, presented by Robert Wagner, concerning the sponsorship by the Glee Club of a Dance on November for the raising of money for coming trips, was

Peter Chiacchieri Studying in Europe

Peter Chiacchieri, last year's St. Michael's College valedictorian, has a million to spend.

He was declared the winner of a Fulbright scholarship to Italy which is worth 1,256,250 lire.

The Roxbury, Mass., man had made some rapid calculation and estimated the year's study at the University of Naples with travel amounting to $2,000.

Chiacchieri is studying Latin and Greek--the subjects in which he majored at St. Michael's. He graduated cum laude last June in a Class of 123.

A cadet lieutenant colonel in the Air Force R.O.T.C. at St. Michael's, he was named as a distinguished military cadet. That honor gave him a chance at a commission in the regular Air Force instead of the Reserves had he desired it. He was scheduled to begin Air Force duties this Fall, but he was deferred. The Air Force likes to get all the education possible.

Chiacchieri whose parents came from the suburbs of Naples is one of the 112 students that were chosen by the Department of State to go to Italy as an exchange student under the Fulbright Act.

McNeil New Alumni Pres.

St. Michael's College Alumni Association has elected a new president, in the person of Judge Joseph C. McNeil. Judge McNeil, past Vice-president of the Association and a native of Portland, Maine, is now making his home in Burlington, Vt.

Judge McNeil graduated from St. Michael's College in the Class of 1942 with a cum laude, earning his Bachelor's degree in Law. A varsity basketball star in college days at St. Michael's, Judge McNeil was also president of the "Newman Debating Society."

After World War II, he continued his studies at Boston College Law School, where he graduated as third in a Class of 60, attaining successfully his Legum Baccalaeas LLB. Degree.

Being admitted to the Massachusetts bar and then of the Vermont bar, Judge McNeil came to St. Michael's College, rendering his services as an instructor, for a few years, in Business Law.

Judge Joseph McNeil is married to a Burlington girl, the former Miss Margaret Murray who was the daughter of the late Edward J. Murray, known through Vermont as a member of the accounting firm of "Jugs, Murray and Densmore." The McNeils have three children--Joseph Edward 10, Mary Elizabeth 8 and Margaret 5.

Judge McNeil, who is a member of the Honorary Society "Delta Epsilon Sigma," holds the title of Grand Knight in Bishop DeGosbriand "Knights of Columbus."

Once again Alumni of St. Michael's College are flowing into the Burlington area to take part in the festivities of Homecoming Weekend. BLOOD MOBILE

October 20, has been set as the date for the annual visit of the Bloodmobile to St. Michael's. That is the day on which Michaelman collectively roll up their sleeves to help the Red Cross.

In the past St. Michael's has always shown itself more than generous in this matter and on occasion records have been broken.

This is the sort of drive which is most appealing to all concerned. It costs nothing. You are, in giving a pint of blood, giving more than money; you are in fact giving part of yourself to help others.

It is not a painful operation nor does it have after-results. You merely present yourself at Austin Hall during the appointed hours on October 20, and if you are in good physical condition your blood will be taken.

After a leisurely cup of coffee and a couple of doughnuts served by genial Red Cross workers you leave Austin Hall lighter by a pint of blood but rich in the satisfaction of having helped someone out in his need, of perhaps having saved a life. See you there.

OPEN COUNCIL

Last year in a break from traditional SAC policy it was decided to open the meetings of the student council to the general student body. It was thought in some circles that previous to the open meetings, the student who was being represented did not get the full import and significance of what was taking place at these meetings and in a great many instances didn't even know who his representatives were. The open council is an attempt to alleviate this condition.

The student council is the elected body which governs student affairs and acts as a liaison between the student body and the college administration. It meets Mondays at 7:00 P.M. in Science Hall 107.

The opportunity is there for those who wish to observe the functioning of this body.

NOVELIST CITES LAITY

UNION CITY, N.J.--In a frank appraisal of the Catholic Church in America, Bruce Marshall, noted Scottish novelist, expresses astonishment at "the astounding devotion of the laity" in an article in the October issue of The Sign, national Catholic magazine published here.

Declares Marshall: "American Catholics realize that, just as Chicago is as legitimate a subject of poetry as Naples, so God can be worshipped at a lathe as well as in a cell." He continues: "I do not know what percentage of American Catholics go through the outward motions of their religion, but among those who do, the inward can generally be seen, too."

DAILY VISITS

He points to evidences he came across during a recent lecture tour of the United States: "In a small church in Boston, 1,000 people visit the Blessed Sacrament every day, 400 attend the midday Mass, and 150 receive Communion before going to their offices to type invoices and sell TV sets to the greater glory of God. Nor is this piety confined to the well-to-do, for in the United States the Church has not, as it has in Europe, lost the working class."

(Ed. Note: Marshall in a previous lecture tour, spoke at St. Michael's in 1948.)

However, Marshall warns: "Perhaps the very efficiency of the good works is the greatest danger to the works: to those who 'seek first God's kingdom and His glory' Cadillacs are inevitably added; the leading of a godly, righteous and sober life earns dividends on earth as well as in heaven, and comforts and cossetings may one day produce an only nominally Christian ruling class careless of its responsibilities.

DOUBLE FUNCTION

He quotes a Chicago priest as saying: "The Church is being raised up in America. Sooner or later, the Devil will start attacking it. The clergy are in the front line and they'll be tempted first. Beer and sex are out, so it'll be materialism."

Citing "apostolic priests" for "understanding and interesting their people in the universality of the Church", Marshall asserts "the Church in America performs a double function: beside preserving the Catholic faith, it distributes European culture."

"This culture," he declares, "has been implanted in varying degrees--in the young more successfully than in the elderly

"Knightlights" To Audition

R. I. and Bob Bolster, Pittsfield, Mass.

BENEFITS MISSIONS

"Knightlights" has in the past years benefited such causes as the Burlington Boy's Club and the Bishop's Fund for the Vermont Aged. Proceeds from this year's show will go to the Southern Missions go to the Society of St. Edmund. This year's show is sponsored by the Mission Crusade Club, the Rev. John Crowley, Moderator.

"Knightlights" is a wholesome show of professional quality in the fullest sense of the word. This is attested to by the fact of the thunderous applause and eager demands of "Encore" of full house audiences in previous years.

The show itself is scheduled for the second semester of the Golden Jubilee Year and owing to the fact that it is the fiftieth anniversary of the college, the director, Mr. Forcier, has asked that a double effort on the part of the student body be made to make the show the best ever.

PREPARE IMMEDIATELY

The director has also asked that those who wish to participate in the show in any capacity to begin preparing their acts immediately. Any form of entertainment will be allowed such as: skits, dancers, barbershop quartets, comics, instrumentalists, pantomimes and mixed chorales, etc.

More of "Knightlights" will be said in the coming months, so keep watching and most of all, keep rehearsing.

Outing Club Holds Saturday Ball

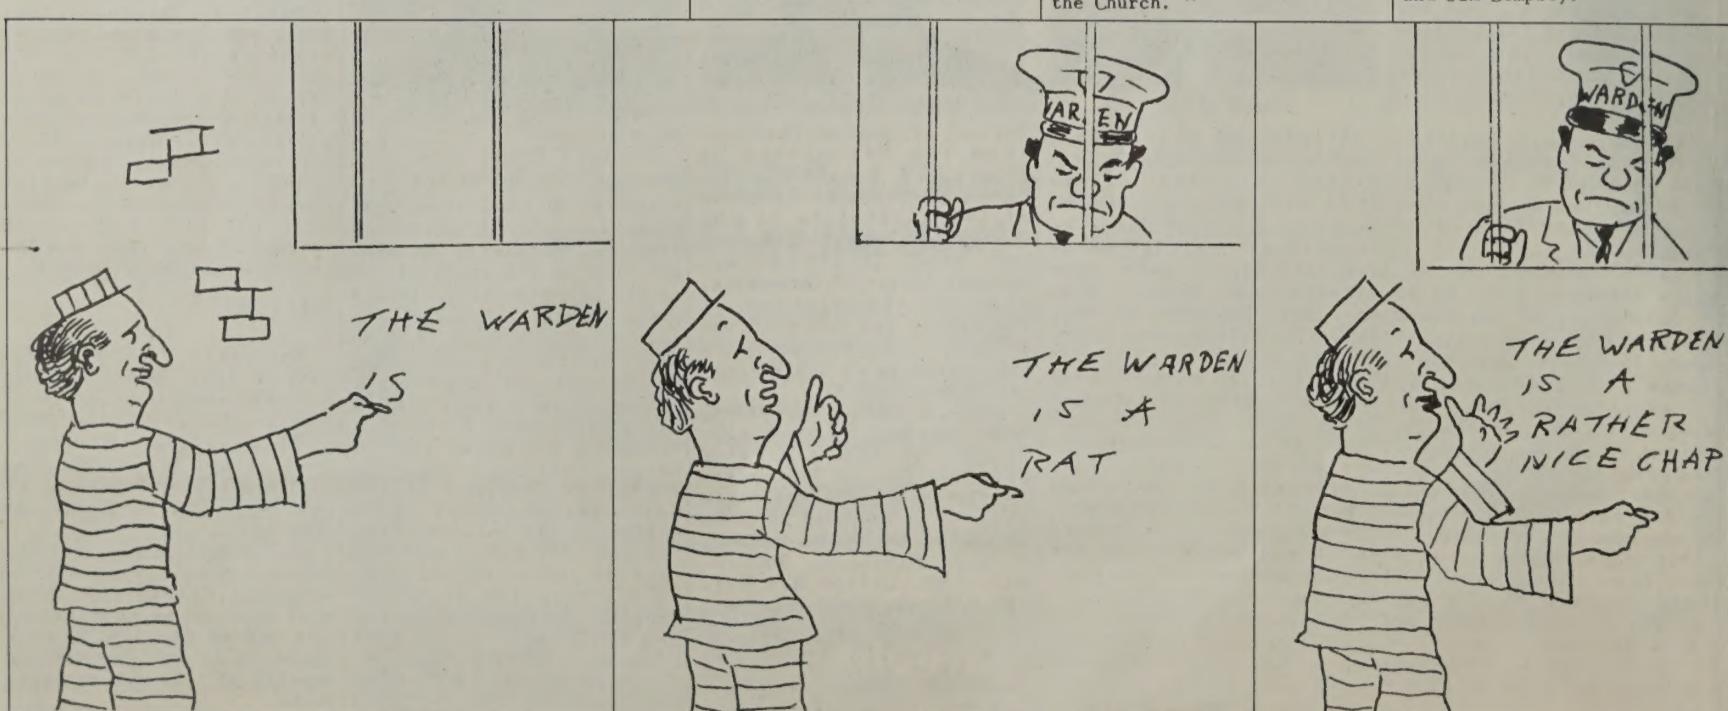

The first dance of the school year will be held Saturday from 8-12 in Austin Hall. The Fall Ball sponsored by the Outing Club will be held as part of the student participation in Homecoming Weekend.

As in the past the returning grads will be met by a bevy of floats and banners as the various halls vie for the trophy which goes to the hall or floor which is judged as having the best display.

BURNS CHAIRMAN

General chairman for the student end of the Homecoming Weekend is Richard Burns.

Chairman for the dance, tickets for which can be obtained at the door at $1.00 per couple, is Robert Ryan, Outing Club President. His committee includes: Ted Dimauro, Pete Bongiorni, Paul Kehoe, Rich Nolan, John Sheahan, Don Gasierowski, and Jim Dempsey.

DEBATERS CONSIDER RED CHINA QUESTION

Anyone interested in the relationships we carry on with Red China should drop in on the weekly meetings of the Debating Club, held Thursdays at 4:00 P.M. in Science Hall 308.

The topic "Resolved that the United States should extend diplomatic recognition to Communist China will be debated throughout the year by Varsity and Novice members of the debating team and their adversaries from rival col-

A HAPPY EVENING FOR DR. STOEHR

Dr. Richard J. Stoehr, retired professor of German and Music here at St. Michael's received an unexpected and happy surprise last Monday night following the performance of the Vienna Academy Chorus at Memorial Auditorium. Dr. Stoehr, a former professor at the Vienna Academy of Music, had gone backstage to discuss old times with the members of the chorus when he had the pleasure of meeting Rosa Bahl, one of the soloists of the organization. Upon speaking with her, he discovered that she was one of the group that had put on an Eightieth Birthday commemoration of Dr. Stoehr's musical works in Vienna in June. He has already received a tape recording of this performance, but this was the first opportunity he has had to meet one of the members of the actual group.

DR. STOEHR HONORED

Dr. Stoehr will be honored in this country on October 31, when the Vermont Symphony Orchestra will present a program made up entirely of his works, at the Burlington High School Auditorium. Dr. Stoehr was a teacher here at St. Michael's from 1941 until his retirement in 1950. Previously he had acquired international note for his teaching and composing in Europe. He was a teacher at the famed Vienna Academy from 1904 until 1939, and included among his pupils such famous names as Arthur Rodzinski, Erich Leinsdorf, Leonard Bernstein and Walter Hendl. The Doctor was forced to flee Vienna because of the threatening invasion of the Nazis, and came to this country, where he taught at both the Curtis Institute of Music at Philadelphia and the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music before coming to the Hilltop.

leges. The topic and its various aspects will be of unlimited interest to every person who considers himself well-informed. The St. Michael's debaters will debate the question intercollegiately 50 or 55 times, and will engage in intra-squad contests at every meeting.

MCCANN PRESIDENT

The Club is being run by an experienced group of officers. Joe McCann, '55, this year's president, has debated for two years, has served as a Student Council member for two years, and is now also SAC veep. Paul Kane, '57, is vice-president, and had a brilliant record as a Novice during his Freshman year. Dan O'Hear, '57, will serve as secretary, and also had an outstanding year of competition as a Frosh. Don Flynn, '56, will repeat as treasurer. Prof. Edward Murphy of the English and Speech Departments will once again guide the debaters as Club Moderator.

President McCann presided over the first meeting last Thursday and gave a brief outline of the year's activities. He introduced Mr. Murphy, who described debating in general. The meeting, attended by a surprisingly large number of new members, underclassmen and upperclassmen alike, came to a close at 4:25 P.M.

The St. Michael's debaters have had great success in the past few years. Last year they won 29 of 56 intercollegiate debates, beating Middlebury, Dartmouth, and Vermont several times, and adding to these wins over Syracuse, Georgetown, Boston College, Holy Cross, and many others. The Varsity scored 5 wins on the annual New England trip and participated in four intra-squad contests before Labor Union groups.

INVITATIONAL TOURNEY

The Varsity and Novice teams will soon be tested on the Red China issue in practice rounds on the Hilltop and at Middlebury, Dartmouth, and Vermont. The gigantic U.V.M. Invitational Tournament will bring the Michaelmen to grips among fifty other schools. The St. Michael's Novice Tournament will be held in March. The Club hopes to be able to take two spring trips so that all of the best debaters will get a chance on the road. These will be to New York City and through New England.

SO SOON?

Campus radio station WSSE is installing new equipment this year in an effort to become a permanent college function. The reason WSSE is not on the air at the present time is that the station lacks a control board. Last year when the station was on a trial basis, it used a control borrowed from the school. This year this board is not available so the engineers will have to build one for the station. Parts for this control board are expensive and any discarded radio receivers around campus will be very useful and welcome. If you have any parts please bring them to Fr. D'Agostino in Senior Hall.

The date of the next meeting of the radio club will soon be announced and all students are invited to attend.

WSSE Plans Return to Air

Already, the Junior Class has held three meetings in preparation for their big event of the year, the Junior Prom.

Norman Bessette, the general chairman and Louis Brault and Jack Steubens, co-chairmen began the organization of the many committees by appointing able men to run them.

At the first meeting, volunteers were called for, to work with these committee heads. Ideas were coming fast from the enthusiastic Juniors and suggestions were quickly put to vote. By the end of the meeting, much had been accomplished and the future weekend began to take form.

NFCCS DELEGATES

Chosen to represent St. Michael's this weekend at the National Federation of Catholic College Students annual fall meeting at Salve Regina College, Newport, R.I., will be Senior Delegate Ray Donlin and delegate Paul Kane.

In past years the St. Michael's chapter of the N.F.C.C.S. has been voted one of New England's most outstanding and active chapters.

Glee Club Plans Year

The St. Michael's College Glee Club, under the direction of Mr. John Donoghue, will open its season on November 15th which is President's Day. Robert Wagner, President of this year's Glee Club, expects a tremendous turnout with twenty four veterans returning, and a possible forty-four new members reporting for rehearsals.

This year's Glee Club will try and schedule as many outside concerts as possible. To date, only two definite engagements have been scheduled, the first of which will be held at the President's Day Reception, and the other to be a Christmas Concert to take place the first part of December. A tentative engagement also has been scheduled with the College of Our Lady of Elms which, if held, will take place during the first part of the incoming year. The travelling units for these concerts will comprise of approximately twenty members.

We sincerely hope that the members of the Glee Club will give their fullest cooperation to its director, and that the student body and faculty will support it faithfully in order to make it one of the finest that the College has ever had, especially since this is St. Michael's Golden Anniversary.

GREETINGS, brother rats! For those of sturdy character who employ difficult reading here is the second edition of this episode on nothingness. Even if you derive no profound philosophical principles from this column nor even read it, (and you're a smart one), at least it fills up space in The Michaelman.

WE ALL SEEK TRUTH

And while on the subject of Michaelmen, a number of the guys were spotted at the recent homecoming celebration at the U. of Vt. The frat men were rather nice about it though, 'cept at one whoopee party where there were so many guests the members felt like outsiders. Members of all colleges have one common goal during said festival--seeking new scholastic truths--over coffee and donuts.

One of our big, bouncing, basketball stars, known to some as "Jig," attempted to bounce into one closed house and instead was bounced out. tsk, tsk,

LOOK FOR THE NEEDLE

And then, of course, there was the one about the farmer who, just before he slipped off the roof of the barn said, "Guess I'll hit the hay." After that one--if you're silll reading this jumble, you should check in with Fr. Dube.

Bob Wilson, was out with his girl cruising around in his "Bomb" when the motor began to pound. "I wonder what that could be," he said. "Well it isn't opportunity," answered his date.

Everyone on campus commenting on the wonderful mess served in the chow hall lately. Maybe that should be worded, "wonderful chow in the mess hall." No, it sounds better in the first case.

"Sis, Boom, Bah
Ma, Ma, Ma!
He gave me a kiss,
Rah, Rah, Rah!"

I dunno, it's a funny sort of a world.

Could it be true that Ted Dimauro, President of the Senior Class, outstanding (huh?) edample of a Michaelman, cut his 8:10 class on Monday, October 4, just for the fun of it? This can't be our "Rocket." yuk, yuk.

Bob Johnson was to give a talk on, "Law Enforcement and the College Student," before a women's group but was cancelled due to an unanticipated commitment. Bobs experience in police work is wide and varied.

HE'S THE WHEEL

Hey, anybody, wanna see your name in The Michaelman? Just bring your cereal box tops and $2.00 to Craig Tynan, dungeon 7, Ryan Hall. The only man on campus who wants to quit college a millionaire.

But already I can hear the assassins creeping up: the goon squad is wearing sneakers this year, so it's time to end this prattle for a spell. Never fear, though, if we can slip another copy if this adventure in journalism past the many, Daze and knights will live again. Remember, if you want to get your best buddy kicked out of school, if you have any information that might cause a scandal, contract this author (even though Paul Kehoe strongly disagrees) either at St. Will's or in the solitary confinement pit under Old Hall.

IT'S ALMOST OVER

Before we cease, though, bow your heads for the motto of the week: If you are one of those who think no one would ever miss you, just miss bed check without contacting your proctor.

See you around the campus, cats.

SMC Given New Flag

St. Michael's College has a handsome new purple silk flag, the gift of Mrs. John Siclari of New Haven, Conn.

It took Mrs. Siclari three months to embroider the lettering and the figure of a charging knight on the banner which was put on display for Freshman Week at St. Michael's.

Mrs. Siclari presented the flag to Very Rev. Francis E. Moriarty, S.S.E., president of St. Michael's, and it was given a place of honor in the Air Force ROTC exhibit at the college during Freshman Week.

Mrs. Siclari's son, Louis, was graduated this year from St. Michael's. During the first half of his senior year he was the cadet colonel for the 400 man Air Force ROTC cadet corps at St. Michael's.

Mrs. Siclari made a similar flag for Notre Dame High School in West Haven, Conn., in 1950, the year her son was graduated with the first class from that school.

The cloth and thread are of pure silk imported from Italy. The border and much of the detail is of gold thread, since the college colors are purple and gold.

by Frank O'Handley

Football returns to the Campus this afternoon. Of course it's not the Varsity brand; nor will it feature teams of the high calibre which Doc Jacobs turned out in past seasons. But it will be football.

The Seniors and the Juniors inaugurate the new St. Michael's Inter-Class competition program in a contest that should be exciting hardplayed and spirited, if not artistic. Both squads have been working out daily for the past two weeks, getting in condition and polishing up their plays. It's too much to expect that smooth offenses or solid defenses have been developed to perfection in that brief period of time. It will be interesting to see what develops.

ABLE COACHES

It's difficult to compare the teams, with no past performances to go by. We could compare coaches, which would prove little. Both are tried and true football veterans, with a great deal of experience gained on Purple Knight elevens under Doc Jacobs. Both were excellent linemen, a fact which might have a great influence on the play of the game.

Frank Cotter, coach of the Senior team, provided many a key block that helped the 1951 Knight team go through the season undefeated in six games. Frank was drafted at the end of the season, but after his two year Army stint, has returned to the Hilltop to finish out his Senior year. His boys should be in pretty good condition because he's been working them hard.

His rival, Carey Hamrah, Junior Coach, showed so much as a freshman tackle on the '51, Varsity, that the Saturday Evening Post picked him as a "sophomore to watch." Fast for his mammoth size (260 pounds) - Carey is quite happy that his Junior team has a fair sized line.

PROBABLY A TOSSUP

We haven't consulted our bookie for the odds on the game. From here it seems a tossup. Most of the boys on either team have had at least experience in high school ball. Both teams will operate from a "T"; although Hamrah is thinking of using a single wing.

Tom Cowell will call the plays for the Senior Club; handing off the ball to halfbacks Sal Carbone, Ted Dimauro, Fred Frangie and Dick Gilthrop. Tom Kerwin at fullback will add power to the backfield.

Paul Provosoli or Ed Archer quarterback for the Juniors. Russ Gangi, Dave Lawrence, Ed Malcolm and Paul Palmer are the halfbacks, with John Lennon at fullback. We look for more speed in the Junior backfield with a slight edge for the Seniors at fullback.

BIG JUNIOR LINE

With such worthies as Don Cook, Ray Garland, Ray Geremia and Bob DesRoches in the line, the Juniors definitely have a weight advantage. However, Pete Bongiorni, Don Buckley, Dante Bai Rossi, Gerry Smith and the minute Dick Dolia hope to even things up with their fight and hustle. The ends are evenly matched but Junior Steve O'Brien's speed could make a difference.

Condition will mean a lot; many tongues will be dragging in the later stages of the game. This will favor Hamrah's team, since they've had one year less in which to get out of shape.

Since we're biased we pick the Seniors.

WIDE OPEN GAMES.

You can look for a wide open type of game, not only today, but in all the Interclass contests. The line play will be crude, necessitating wide end sweeps or long passes in order to make substantial gains. Don't look for much running up the middle or off-tackles. The team with the most speed in the backfield or the best passer will cop the Interclass trophy.

Incidentally the Michaelman will not only cover the games, but also keep statistics on them.

passed by the council. The dance tonight in Austin Hall has a budget of $96.50 according to the president of the Outing Club. This annual Homecoming Dance will utilize the services of the campus band, the Arabian Knights.

Father Duford officially appointed Sophomore Walter Bellcourt as permanent head waiter for all functions at St. Michael's, this decision will enable Bellcourt to select his key men far in advance of any major dance.

Ray Donlin, president of St. Michael's chapter of the NFCCS asked for, and received approval for an advance of $50 in order to attend a regional meeting in Providence.

The final order of Council business was tabled for further discussion next week, it concerns the appointment of a committee to supervise the allotment of funds to the three campus publications, the Michaelman, the Lance, and the Shield.

Net Tourney

Heavy Vermont dew failed to take its toll, as the tennis tourney progressed into the second week. Eight completed matches were reported this week, and two others were temporarily halted by "adverse" weather conditions.

Second round results are the following: John Fitzsimmons over Tom Gallini 6-4, 0-6, 5-0; Billy Weihs bested Dave Luberger 6-1, 5-2; Bill Dalton did in Sarto Sasserelle 5-0, 6-3; Bill Murphy edged Dan Murray 7-5, 6-2; Les Kipp had an easy time with Joe Haley 6-0, 5-0; Don Leblanc ditto with Tom Schnurr 6-0, 6-0; Hank Dudzinski outlasted Bill Murphy 6-4, 4-6, 6-4; Al Adzima won from Rog Verrier 2-6, 6-3, 6-3; and Bill Keane on default from Ed Trombley.

THIRD ROUND

It is hoped the third round will be completed this week. All the seeded players, with the exception of Trombley, have survived the opened rounds.

Two diehards performed in the rain last Wednesday. They finally called it quits when one of the balls became water-logged.

Competitors are still reminded to record their scores as quickly as possible. Tourney sheets are posted. Tourney sheets are posted both at the courts and in the dining room.

Softball Scores

Despite inclement weather, the Fall Softball League continued into its second week of play. Postponements took its toll, but five scheduled games were played.

In the only extra-inning affair, Ryan 3 edged Ryan 1, 3-2 in 7 innings. Chick Hennigan was on the mound for the victors, while Ray Tardif took the loss.

Other scores found St. William's coming from behind to knock off St. Patricks, 5-5. The off-campus entry were on the top end of a 5-3 score as they defeated the Pre-Theo's. Old Hall 3 were not very neighborly as they upended Old Hall 4, 5-4. The final game recorded was a forfeit victory by St. James' claimed at the expense of St. John's.

All teams are reminded that the games should start promptly at 4 P.M. Team managers are also urged to turn in lineups to the umpires before each game.

SAILORS IN MEET

This Saturday the SMC Sailing Team tangles on Lake Champlain with UVM and Williams in a triangular home meet. This is their first taste of Varsity competition this season.

Len Frosina skippers for the "A" Team, with Ed Hughes as his crew. The "B" Team is composed of Paul Bostley, skipper, and Joe Koch.

Last Sunday in a Freshmen Quadrangular meet, the Frosh Sailors Crew placed second with a total of 18 points. Middlebury took top honors with 23 points. UVM was third with 13, while Dartmouth failed to show up and thus forfeited.

Charles Lafley placed first in one event for the Frosh "A" Team.

Kickoff Set For 2 In Junior Senior Tilt

Inter-class football gets its first big test this weekend as the pigskin returns with the grads for the Homecoming festivities. A unique double-header will feature the fun-filled three days as the Seniors oppose the Juniors on Saturday, and the Sophs challenge the Frosh on the Sabbath. Kickoff time for both games is 2 P.M.

Purple and Gold brightened up the campus this week as the teams began their first contact drills. With the exception of a few black and blue marks, all four clubs appear in good shape.

TEAMS BALANCED

Opening day's game looms as a real battle. The Seniors have a well balanced club, with a strong forward wall and a capable backfield. The line, headed by John McNally, Clay Bridges, and Don Bridges, and Don Buckley, will not be pushed around rather easily. In the backfield Tom Cowell will mastermind the offense from quarter. Tom Kerwin and Sal Carbone are rated as good running backs.

Over in the enemy's camp, a very impressive Junior squad is working up to opening day with a quiet air of confidence. In Paul Provazoli they have a fine looking field general. Jack Lennon and Paul Palmer are two more backs whom the First year men will have to be wary of.

HAMRAH COACH

Coach Cary Hamrah is also very high on his linemen. He is particularly pleased with Don Cook, Bob DesRoches, and Bob Gasser. These three will form the bulk of the line. Tim Foley, rangy end, can also hurt you defensively as well as on the offense.

On Sunday the game could prove to be a little more side-open than Saturday's. Both teams have a bevy of backs who can go all the way.

Jay Tierney and Ray Jaques are the two boys to watch in the Soph's attack. Both have speed and drive to spare. Joe Visconti, diminutive ball-handler, will be calling the signals.

The sophs also boast a lineman who can play any one of the seven slots. This talented young man is Ron Mastroberadino. However, Ron will only have to worry about one spot at a time Sunday, he will have plenty of assistance. Jim Walsh, Frank Devane and Fran Wallace all have been impressive in opening drills.

TWO FORMATIONS

Dick Spreer's Frosh will vary their attack, using both the single wing and the "T". Dick is well pleased with his air offense. He has a good passing quarterback in Tom Sylvester, and two good receivers in Ed Dalton and Jim Gafga. Balancing the air with the ground are Ed Cashman and Eric Ramsay, two fleet-booted backs.

Heading the cast on the Freshman's forward wall will be Bart Ponessa at tackle, and Jim Breagy a solid guard.

It is rather difficult to pick a winner for either game. Anything can happen, and it usually does. After this weekend, however, the picture will be a little clearer. Regardless of the results, the prospects of good football is too much for any gridiron adherent to resist.

To Lead Band

The new Air Force R.O.T.C. band under the leadership of Fred Blais, with Lt. Griggs, USAF, as military adviser, will make its debut Tuesday, October 12, at drill time. Blais holds the rank of Captain in the AFROTC.

The band has thirty men, most of whom are Freshmen. The main purpose of the band is, of course, for parades involving the AFROTC at St. Michael's. It will be a feature of the Christmas Concert and will be heard with Middlebury's band in a joint concert.

According to Blais, the band is balanced and well organized. He plans to use the more difficult pieces of music even though the men have not played together as frequently as is needed.

On the other hand, Fred himself is rich in experience. He has been the principal percussionist with the Vermont Symphony Orchestra for the past five years. (This is the same group which will play Dr. Stoehr's concert on October 31.) Fred is also the leader of a danceband

CAMPION PLAYERS ON WJOY SUN

If anyone had been listening to the radio last Sunday, from 12:30 to 1:00 P.M. on station WJOY they would have heard the Campion Players present the play, "Lapand." The Campion Players, under the leadership of Joseph A. Powers, professor of Sociology at St. Michael's College, is a group of Catholic laymen from Burlington and the surrounding areas, including, students of St. Michael's, who are interested in promoting Catholic Action.

English for Foreign Students Underway

On the 27th of September St. Michael's College inaugurated a program of English for Foreign Students to help solve the language problem of some of the thousands of foreign students who come to continue their education in the United States each year, and who find themselves in need of a concentrated yet substantial course in English conversation, comprehension, reading, and composition. This program will include both a careful study of fundamental English as well as a program designed to orient the student in American life, customs, and institutions. During the first year students with French and Spanish backgrounds will be admitted.

The 15 week program, made up of an elementary course of seven weeks, will be repeated during the year, and has both boys and girls among its students. In order to complement this program, each foreign student has an American Room mate.

The program is under the supervision of Prof. Ernest A. Boulay of the Department of Modern Languages. Professor Bouley, who has an A.B. from the University of New Hampshire and an A.M. from Boston University, has had several years experience in teaching English to foreign students and in conducting concentrated language courses. He began this work while on duty with the U.S. Air Force in Central Africa. Upon returning to civilian life as a Major, he taught languages at the University of New Hampshire, and for the past three years has been Director of the School of English for Foreign Students, at Windham College, Putney, Vermont.
